WHO MAY USE THIS EXEMPTION?

Elementary, junior high, middle schools, and high schools, whether they are public, private or parochial, are entitled this exemption. Exempt nonprofit educational institutions include: universities, colleges, junior colleges, community colleges, vocational-technical schools, and nonprofit business colleges. Since July 1, 1998, nonprofit endowment associations and foundations that operate exclusively for the support and benefit of an educational institution, nonprofit entities whose principal purpose is to hold and disperse receipts from intercollegiate sporting events along with grants and gifts to benefit athletic programs of an educational institution, nonprofit research organizations, and a group of educational institutions operating exclusively for an educational purpose (such as the NCAA) are also exempt as an "educational institution."

WHAT PURCHASES ARE EXEMPT?

Direct purchases of tangible personal property or labor services (except as noted below) may be purchased without tax with this certificate. A direct purchase is one that is billed to the school and paid for with school funds. Purchases by teachers, employees, parent, or alumni associations with their personal funds are TAXABLE. A school or educational institution may also purchase electricity, gas, water or heat without sales tax; claim this exemption on Form ST-28B, Utility Exemption Statement.

CONSTRUCTION, REMODELING OR REPAIR PROJECTS

Only a contractor's labor services may be purchased without tax; materials purchased through a contractor are NOT considered to be a direct purchase. When a school or nonprofit educational institution contracts with a contractor, subcontractor, or repairman to build, repair, or maintain school property, the contractor must pay sales tax on all the materials used and will pass this cost along to the school unless a Project Exemption Certificate has been obtained. Schools and educational institutions should complete a Request for Project Exemption Certificate, Form PR-76, for any construction, remodeling, or repair project. Exception for Human Habitation Projects (Dormitories): To determine whether the materials or service purchased by a school for a dormitory is taxable or exempt, the general rule is that capital items are taxable, and maintenance is exempt. Since 7/1/98, labor services on dormitories are exempt as residential construction; materials purchased for dormitory projects are generally taxable. TAXABLE capital dormitory purchases include: materials for construction, remodeling, or repair due to damage, and the purchase of furnishings, such as beds, blinds, curtains, desks, furniture, lamps and wardrobes. EXEMPT dormitory maintenance includes repairs due to normal wear and tear, and elevator or pest control maintenance contracts.
